"Many people think of lighting as the last element in a home design," he continues. "They wait until the project is already done, and then scramble to apply it later on. It needs to be considered in the architectural design phase, just like the landscaping or other significant details.

lafu Three Vamie's Pendant' celling fixtures, named for the originations. Jameil'sch, line sive hallway of this Newport Beach home. The architectural details and vaminacing year entimisation of a Paul A. Williams estate, so Genid Classive created these cylindrical fixtures of solid hous with a painted finish to compliment them. They are fitted with Class piper-blowing lass, neerify pitted with air bulblas for character and sexture. All the pordiors in the bound have these same farms.
