Landscape lighting made to order

Eden climbing roses and Japanese wisteria ascend the crisp white facade of a new poolhouse inspired by the cottages of the English countryside. Stucco color, Glacier White by Benjamin Moore

The best-laid plans are often some of the best delayed plans, imagined and sketched over decades, growing and forming along side children doing much of the same. For one Newport Beach, California, gardener and her husband, these grand ambitions lay right in their own backyard-and in the colorful mind of their designer, Peter Dunham.
